Lightning Hits At Sipe Springs; Destroys Oil Tanks

Lightning struck shortly after midnight Tuesday on the A. D.
Jones farm in the Sipe Springs community—and destroyed four large oil tanks.

Explosion occurred, and persons in Comanche, some 18 miles east, report hearing the blast.

Four of five 500-barrel oil tanks were destroyed. The battery of tanks belonged to the Harvest Queen and Elevator Company, Plainview. The tanks were situated in the center of a shallow oil field production at Sipe Springs. About 1,000 barrels of oil had been removed from the storage tanks Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Jones, who reported the explosion and fire to The Chief, said more than an inch of rain fell during the electrical storm.
The Jones home, located about half a mile from the tanks, she said, was not damaged. Flames, which followed the blast, could be seen as far away as Comanche and Cross Plains.

Comanche County 4-Hers won state honors at the Statewide 4-H first places and one fourth place with their three entries.

Grady Earl Hall won first as an

and Water Conservation Group.

Dickie Dickson and Sara Lou McCullough won fourth place as a team entry in the Farmer Co-Op Demonstration group.

The 4-H members left for A&M Tuesday morning accompanied by Miss Stringer, Home Demonstration Agent, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall of Newburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Jean Rachels of Comanche.
On Wednesday they were joined by County Agent and Mrs. Angus Dickson, Jr., Mrs. Gayle McCullough and Mrs. Bill Lane of Newburg. The group returned to Comanche Thursday afternoon.

Miss Stringer served as one of the judges in dairy foods during the Roundup.

The Comanche Group was surprised and delighted at a dinner party Wednesday evening on the A&M Campus as the guest of the 40 Pakistanians now taking extension work at the college. Part of the hosts were guests of Comanche County Rural Clubs last Christmas and also attended the recent Stag Creek Rural Progress Community Tour.

In appreciation for the hospitality shown to them on their two trips to Comanche the Pakistanians took this opportunity to show their preparing their attire foods and serving the group personally.

As previously announced in the Chief, Sara Lou McCullough has won a ten day educational trip to San Francisco, California for her district winning Cooperative Rury Demonstration Record Book, plus a $25 Savings Bond.

Dr. J. C. Terrell, Chairman of the Board of Directors, and J. W.
Moore, President, of The Comanche National Bank announce a 50 per cent increase in the bank's capital from $50,000 to $75,000.
This has been effected by the is-surance of a $25,000.00 stock dividend.

The Comanche National Bank

structure and will now have $75-000.00 Capital, $125,000.00 Surplus, with Undivided Profits and Re-been made more accessible by a reduction of the par value of the shares from $100.00 to $20.00; and also an additional member has been added to the board of directors.

Dr. Terrell and Mr. Moore state,
"We are pleased to pass this dividend to our stockholders. It is through their cooperation these constructive measures are realized and our progress continues."

"To our loyal customers and friends, our directors, officers and staff wish to express appreciation for your warm friendship, confidence, and support," says Mr. Moore adding, "We know, without you, we could not hope to serve, grow, prosper and plan for the future and we are indebted to you for the success of our bank and the things we have accomplished."

Anyway the story is so good we are reproducing it in full. While it was written about Erath County, it might have been just as well written about Comanche County.

100 YEARS AGO by Jim Turnbow

My grandfather, Chesley Turnbow and his brother-in-law, W. H. Gilbreath, came to Erath County in 1855. They settled about 6 miles south of where the town of Dublin now is. The county had not been organized at that time. There were not many people here at that time. The Stephens and the Barbees were early settlers. All of these families were here during War Between the States and the days of the Indian depredations. When these families settled here it looked like a poor man's Paradise. Good land, cheap wide open range for all. Lots of deer, wild turkeys, prairie chickens, some antelope, and plenty of buffalo.

Bowling Results

Choice Baking Company maintained their lead over the Klor Hoppers in the Comanche Indian Bowling League by winning 3 out of the 4 games played Wednesday night. The Klor Hoppers swept their series 4-0, and are now only 5 games off the pace set by Choice.

Two Baylor University students home for the summer, paced the individual scoring — Tom Palmer and Butch Loudermilk tied for the high 3 game series at 510; and Butch had the high individual game with a 205.

Two teams did not compete in league play Wednesday. Service Drug's team, composed of CHS Band students who were away at camp, couldn't be there to play the Old Pros. These two teams will make up these series this week.

nearby counties, suffered and dured from 1860 to 1870.

You may think that was only short years. To them it was long years of weariness, unbusiness and often sorrow and stress. Indians were cruel and rharous. They showed their times no mercy.

Now I do not want to worry La with a long story, but will to make it a true story of the changes that have come about since I came here 85 years ago. It seems almost like a different race of people here. People eat different, eat different kind of food. They drink different. They work different and dress different. They dress differently, look different and act during.

Mrs. the preachers preach during. Most all kinds of lived. Much as cattle, hogs and Mrs. We are different. Our houses are different, and most of the people speak a different language. Of course, some of us old timers still speak the old original Texas dialect. We still like it best.

We went to school some. In them days, some of us learned a little, but none of us learned too much. Some of us learned the multiplication table, but many did not. Some of us got far enough along to get what they called a Geography. We called 'em Jogafys. But we did not have much faith in what it taught. It said there was more water on top of the Earth than land. We thought anybody ought to know better than that.

And then it said the world was round! Well, we know that was not so, because if it was the water would all run off; and then we knew the Bible said the Earth had 4 corners. And all this time they were trying to change our dialect, wanting us to use different words. They may have caused some of the younger ones to change, but most of us older ones could see no reason for changing.

Many of us still speak the same language. It required little or no schooling. It was easy to learn, easy to speak and easy to understand. You needed no dictionary to see what we meant.

In fact, I have not been able to find some of the words we used then, and still use, in our late dictionaries. I still speak the same language when I talk, and of course, I use a lot of it in my writing because I think it sounds good, and I know every one can understand it, because I just speak plain old English.

You now often hear someone say a certain person chews gum or chews tobacco. We would say "They chaw wax" or "they chaw terbacker." Everybody node what we meant. We used such words as wus, wusent, bleve, git, aint, shant, whur, and whurd—like, "Whurd you git yore yaller hoss? I seed yow fetchin him home yisterday. I jist wondered if heed ever been rid. Air yow gona ride somebody to ride em, or air yow gona ride em?"

Some used the word civer for cover. Some tote, like "Tote the baby," or "Pack the baby." We said sebum and lebum. Cuss was a very common word. And the little word fur meant both for and far. We said fust instead of first. We said yawl, when we meant you all. It was so much easier. Node and sum-un. Allus for always. We said people jined the church.

We said bilin water just like the old colored woman did when she told her pastor she was gona quit Sam, fur he was jist gitin as ill as a hornet. Her pastor asked her if she had ever tried heaping coals of fire upon his head. She said, "No, but Iseed tried bilin water, and seemed like that made him wusen ever."

We said year for ear, purty, purtiest, shore, sorennf, and yander. All were part of our original dialect.

I bleve youde like it if youde ever git use to it. Of course, some did not speak it as perfect as others, but all used quite a bit of it. And most of us older ones, and many of the younger still use much more of it than you may think. Just notice when you talk to others. We hate to give it up, but there is no use to try to stop the change nw. Public opinion is against us. So we will just have to accept the changes as we have all other changes.

You remember, I said people dress different now. Well, 85 and 100 years ago, most all men wore long beards, and they wore their hair much longer than now. Most men had their wives cut their hair once or twice a year.

Their clothes were all home made. We called 'em homade. Men never wore pants then. They wore britches, and they did not always get a perfect fit. There were no belts, so the men had to wear what we called gallises to hold their britches up.

And women never cut their hair—the longer it was, the better they liked it. There were no beauty operators here then.

They wore long dresses, winter and summer. There were large bonnets, and shoes were all heavy with wide heels.

Women worked hard all days. Most of them cooked meals a day on the fireplace and summer. They to the nearest store in a once or twice a year and cloth to clothe the whole family.

She then made clothes for them all with her own hands, and often by the light of the fireplace, and she knitted socks and stockings also. They wear hose then.

You remember I said almost like a different people now here than 100 years ago. If you don't so, let's just try to imagine people who lived here in Texas from 1830 to 1890. died and was buried here—could bring them back to their graves just as they while living.

Now let's suppose you dress them as they dress their lifetime, place them back set of one of the running cars and take them a sight-seeing tour. Now suppose they were on one of the best highways near Fort when they first realized were alive and had been reected from their graves.

Now to fully realize we must use our imagination a little. So let's imagine a chauffeur is a Chinaman speaks only the Chinese uage. Now drive in to the of Fort Worth, drive out to tending the formal dedication of our fine new modern High School building.

This led to the discussions by contrast of some of the early schools we attended as children as compared to those of today.

Mrs. Kilpatrick paid tribute to the pioneer tin dinner-pail which sufficed for the children's lunch basket in her days. She studied the Blue Back Speller and the McGuffey's Readers, which she said laid a sure foundation for a healthy and correct taste in good literature. She said the long walks to school put the children in good trim for work and said that her home-made shoes and her home-spun dresses were not of such attraction as to lead to the neglect of their studies.

Mrs. Brightman made an effective point when she suggested that probably the fact that discipline was not neglected at home accounted for its taking up less time at school in her early school days. The children got enough discipline before they left home to pretty well last them through the day, she said.

Mrs. T. O. Moore said that her early school days in a private school in Louisville, Kentucky were less primitive in surroundings than was the case in the early schools of states like Texas.

At the age of eight Mrs. Moore said she was brought to Texas and the remainder of her education was obtained at Chapel Hill where she and the other children rode horseback six miles daily from their home.

Miss Lizzie Ford said her first school days were passed in the City of London, England, and that both surrounding and methods were far from primitive. At Comanche line-up was and Boswell, guards; W. Farmer, tackles; Moore, Mason, fullback; Marsh, quarterback; Boyd and Scudder.

ter coming to Texas her parents first settled at Old Washington on The Brazos in Texas which was one of the culture spots of Texas at that time.

Mrs. Jeff Greene described the costume of the school girls of her early days. When asked if the girls wore high heel shoes and Georgette waists, she said her father made her high heel shoes from leather he had tanned himself and her mother spun the thread for the cloth she wore by hand for the waists she wore to school, which were mostly long sleeved gingham aprons. The girls wore flat sunbonnets, but the girls were stylish in respect to the manner of their hair dressing, which had to be bobbed locks, though the bobbing was for time-saving and not for an aid to beauty or license for flirting as sometimes is credited to the "flappers" of today.

The flat sunbonnets, however, were worn under a stern decree; and gloves also, with the resulting consequences that the girls had better looking skin than the girls of today and much whiter and softer hands.

The stockings that the girls wore to school in her days bore no resemblance to the thin silk ones the girls wear today, in defiance to all laws of good taste, for the girls of her youth knitted their own stockings which they wore to school; and their mothers knitted the ones they wore to church.

Mrs. John McGuire gave a very explicit description of the early school buildings and equipment of the days of her youth. She said it was a far cry from our handsome new school buildings of today with their wealth of equipment as compared to the one-room log school buildings of her days, with no windows, and dirt floors, puncheon seats, and no blackboards, yet the explicit result of these primitive instrumentalities make us wonder if we have not missed the point, in seeking for what is really the chief necessity of the effective school. The Bible says: "By their fruit ye shall know them," and we all know that those early schools bore good fruit. The women are the proof. When this generation is their age, will our schools of today be as well vouched for?

One-Step Method Makes Canning Easier Now

By Ruth K. Stringer,
Home Demonstration Agent

The latest method for canning vegetables is a one-step cold pack method, according to extension foods and nutrition specialist of the Texas A&M College System.

Directions are simple—As an example, take snap beans. Begin by washing all pint or quart jars in hot soapy water and rinse well. It is not necessary to sterilize jars since the pressure canner must be used in canning all non-acid vegetables.

Use only fresh, young, tender beans. The beans should just be beginning to form in the pod. Wash thoroughly, trim ends and cut into 1 inch pieces.

Thus far there is nothing different from the old method of canning snap beans. Now you will note that the fill is different.

Pack raw beans tightly into clean jars to one half inch of top. Cover with boiling water, again leaving one half inch space at the top of the jar. Add one half teaspoon salt to pints and 1 teaspoon to quarts.

Close jar with two piece lid and place in the pressure canner. Exhaust canner for 10 minutes, close petcock and process at 10 pounds pressure — pint jars 20 minutes, quart jars 25 minutes. Remove canner from heat, let pressure return to zero and remove the jars.

This one-step method can also be used for canning fresh lima beans, carrots, cream style corn, whole kernel corn, black-eye peas and summer squash.

For further information check with your local home demonstration agent. You may also wish to ask for a copy of B-194, "Home Canning—Fruits and Vegetables".

Sidney 4-H Club Holds Meeting

By Richard Frazier, Reporter

The Sidney 4-H Club meeting was held on Monday the 27 of May at 7:30 in the High School Auditorium.

Linda Jones presided over the meeting. The pledge was led and the roll called.

About ten 4-H boys and girls said that they would accept the initiation to go to the next Gustine 4-H meeting June 13.

It was announced that anyone who is interested in the Electric program may go to the Stag Creek Community Clubhouse the 10 of June and a group will go to a REA meeting June 23.

The results of the last month's vaccination session were that 57 dogs were vaccinated. Dr. Hallmarks gave 10 of the $57 to the 4-H Club. We plan to spend the money so that the girls who are eligible can go to camp.

Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Stringer, and C. H. George discussed out the certificates for the last year's tomato record book.

Everyone who wants a 4-H T-shirt must call Mrs. Hershal Jones. She will write your name on the list. Her phone number is 22542.

The meeting was dismissed by the 4-H prayer led by Mike Waldrop.

The names of the 4-Hers who were present were Henry George, Richard Jones, Larry Steele, David Stork, Linda Jones, Mickey Pruitt, Mike Waldrop, Ronnie Cox, Diane Massingale, La Verne George, Clydene George, Jr. and a half, Barbara Blanton, Mary Ward, Sharon Mantooth, and Richard Frazier.

The adults present were Mrs. Dale Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Hershal Jones, Mrs. Ward, Olan Frazier, C. H. George and Miss Stringer.

Two Comanche Girls Attending Girls State Session In Austin

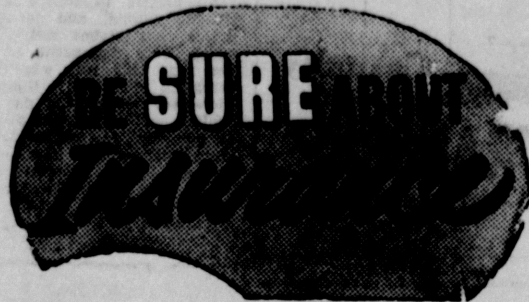

Two Comanche High School girls are attending the 16th annual session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State which got underway Wednesday in Austin for a ten-day session. They are Judith Lynn Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Robertson, 306 W. Neely Ave., and Virginia Kay Cobb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howell E. Cobb, N. Travis St.

Some 400 delegates are expected to register at the Texas School for the Blind, where the girls will stay during the session.

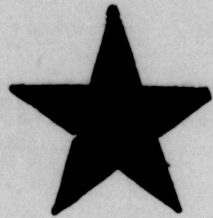

As the girls register, each will be assigned to one of two mythical political parties, the Nationalists or the Federalists, and to a seat in either the house or senate of Girls State. Beginning Thursday, Girls State citizens will organize their own city government and later the county and state governments. All will be according to laws for Texas.

Inauguration of state officers will be held in the rotunda of the State Capitol June 13. Cor-

THANKS
FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS

Your cooperation throughout the campaign has been most valuable to me—and I will always remember the hard work and interest extended by my many friends throughout the county.

Although my vote Saturday was not enough to elect me—I feel that I have benefitted during the campaign by meeting many new people of the county, and renewing old friends. Thanks again to one and all and wishing my opponent, John Beatty, success in his new office, I am, sincerely,

Fred Jones Visit Carlsbad Cavern

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, Rt. 2, Comanche, made the guided tour in Carlsbad Caverns National Park in southeastern New Mexico recently.

The visitors found the Caverns indescribably beautiful; the guides friendly and efficient; and the day time visitors' facilities the finest. Millions of dollars have been spent on trails, lighting and visitors' facilities in the world's greatest cave.

Carlsbad Caverns National Park is open every day of the year. Visitors have their choice of walk-in or elevator trips to the 750 foot level, but all four parties return to the surface by elevator.

Visit in Steward Home

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Steward here were Sonny Brown of Durango, Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes and daughter, Renee, of Farmington, New Mexico.

Here From Hamilton

Mrs. Pete Angermann and sons, Dulane and Timothy of Hamilton were visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Steward here Tuesday.

responding Texas state officials will escort the Girls State officials. Meade Griffin, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, will administer the oath of office.

Each day's activity will begin at 7:30 a.m. with raising of the flag and exercises. Activities have been planned for each day. Climaxing the session will be the selection of two outstanding citizens of 1960, who will be sent to Girls Nation in Washington, D. C., by the Auxilliary.

Homecoming At Hasse Draws Large Crowds

A large crowd of friends, relatives and visitors gathered at the Hasse Community Center on Sunday, May 29, to enjoy a day of renewing old acquaintances and meeting new faces at the annual homecoming which is sponsored each year by the Sardis Cemetery Association.

A short program was rendered by the young folks in the community and County Agent Angus Dickson Jr. gave an interesting talk on the accomplishments the community has already made and of the things still to be done. He also announced that the Hasse 4-H Club had named the newsletter that is published each month, naming it "Buzzing Notes From Busy Communities." He awarded a prize to the club.

A stew and basket lunch was served at noon.

The afternoon was spent in visiting, taking pictures, and plans being made for a better time next year.

A fellow wouldn't mind loaning his lawn mower if the borrower wouldn't take it out of the yard.

Most youngsters think there are only three seasons in baseball, football, basketball.

FOLKS OF PRECINCT NO. 3

AND ALL COMANCHE COUNTY.

It has indeed been a pleasure to have served as your County Commissioner, Precinct 3, for the past two years.

And I want to express my deep appreciation for the loyalty of many friends in the precinct, and for their interest and hard work extended in my behalf. Although I lost out by a total of nine votes in Saturday's election—I am very proud of the fact that I carried 5 out of the 6 boxes in the precinct, and received a nice vote in the other. I am grateful for all the support and help.

Wheat Growers Vote July 21 on 1961 Program required by present law, a marketing quota referendum has been announced for July 21. The Comanche County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced that the 1961 wheat crop has been proclaimed Secretary of Agriculture, available supply of wheat by legislation when more than 20 per cent above normal supply. However, it will not become effective until approved by at least two-thirds of the producers.

If quotas are approved for the 1961 wheat crop, it will mark the eighth consecutive year they have been used for wheat. Wheat quotas and acreage allotments apply only in the 39 so-called "commercial" wheat States, of which Texas is one.

The present law, the chairman explained, states that, to be eligible to vote in the referendum, a grower must expect to have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest in 1961. Any producers who signed applications under the feed wheat provisions permitting them to grow wheat for use as feed on the farm for 1960 will not be eligible to vote in the referendum on quotas for the 1961 crop. Every wheat grower will be informed of the individual wheat allotment for his farm in advance of the referendum date.

If quotas are approved in the referendum, the present law provides that farmers who comply with their wheat acreage allotments will be eligible to market all their wheat without restriction. A grower who exceeds his allotment will be subject to marketing quota penalties on his excess wheat if he has more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain. If quotas are not approved,

'Empty Shoes'

by Mrs. H. E. Waggoner

II Tim. 2:2—"And the things thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."

The film "Empty Shoes" portraying the life of William Cary, pioneer missionary to India, has a very challenging closing scene. Tired and weary from his many years of faithful service to the heathen people of India, Cary removed his shoes; his feet were tired and sore, to take a rest, which proved to be his eternal rest. The empty shoes are pictured beside the bed. And the scene closes with the challenging question, "Who will fill these shoes?"

"To each is given a bag of tools
A shapeless mass
And a book of rules
And each must make ere life is flown
The stumbling block or stepping stone."

Life goes on, the harvests are white, and over the world the workers are few. Many have become weary and worn in body; their empty shoes are at the end of the trail.

In 1957 a talented professor and music instructor in a seminary in South America died of an incurable disease in a needy field. Another young missionary—a few months later died with the same incurable disease. Through the years missionaries of every faith have met untimely deaths on the fields of labor. We ask the question over and over, "Why?" These are modern day "Empty Shoes" which must be filled.

"Not till the loom is silent
And the shutters cease to fly
Shall God unroll the canvas And explain the reason why."

The aged Apostle Paul fully aware that it was time for him to leave this world, said to his beloved Timothy, "And the things thou hast heard of me among many men and witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men." Paul was weary and old. His heart at this time was filled with mingled emotions of going away, and staying here. He fought the good fight and kept

June Is Dairy Month

By Ruth K. Stringer
Home Demonstration Agent

A time to remember that every one in the family needs milk, from baby to grandmother. Nutritionists consider calcium needs first when they figure the amount of milk to include in daily meals.

Without milk, it is hard to get enough calcium in the diet. Milk products, such as cheese, ice cream and dishes made with milk all help meet daily calcium needs.

The following amounts of milk are recommended minimum for daily use:

Children ... 3-4 to 1 quart
Teen-agers ... 1 quart
Adults (All Ages) ... 1 pint.
Expectant and nursing mothers ... 1 quart

There will be an abundance of milk and dairy products this June, the Dairy Month.

In fact dairy food supplies are so large they are featured on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's June list of plentiful foods, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The good-supply story covers the dairy field—whole milk, buttermilk, skim milk, flavored milks, butter, yogurt, cheese of all kinds, dry milk, evaporated milk, cottage cheese, cream, half and half and ever-popular ice cream.

Couple Is Honored With Wedding Showers

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ory Smith gathered at the Hasse Community Club House Monday night, May 23 to honor the couple with a wedding shower.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served to forty-three persons.

When parents are able to answer the children's questions it's a sign that the kids are growing up.

Two Gustine High School Girls Received FHA Degrees

Two Gustine girls, Nancy Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Page, and Jeanette Lancaster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Lancaster, attended the State FHA meeting in Austin on April 29-30, to receive their certification of the State Homemaker Degree of Achievement and a torch, the symbol of the highest degree an FHA member can achieve. This was each girl's second State meeting to attend.

Miss Lancaster has been a member of FHA for three years and an active member for two years. She received her Junior and Chapter Degrees of Achievement last year. This year, she has been busy planning programs for the meetings in her capacity as first vice-president. Next year, she will be busy with more degrees in her work as second vice-president, degree chairman. As Area sergeant-at-arms, her interest will be to enlarge to include Area IV.

Nancy, a junior and an honor student, has been an active FHA member for three years. She received her Junior Degree and served on several committees during her Freshman year. In her Sophomore year, she earned the Chapter Degree, served on several committees, and served as chapter reporter. This year, she has served as chapter president, and has also taken a prominent part in other school activities.

It's The Law

This legal column is prepared under the supervision of the State Bar of Texas and distributed as a public service by the lawyers of Texas. Every effort is made to insure that it reflects an accurate interpretation of the law as applicable to the stated facts.

The Original "Philadelphia Lawyer"

Frequently, when a problem is particularly perplexing, someone will exclaim that "this would confuse a Philadelphia lawyer." The term takes on special significance when it is remembered that it has a close connection with one of the most important cases in American legal history—the seditious libel trial of John Peter Zenger in 1735.

Zenger was the printer and publisher of a paper known as the New York Weekly Journal. Unfortunately he made the unhappy mistake of criticizing the administration of Royal Governor Cosby of New York in the public print. The tyrannical Cosby had Zenger jailed and thus began a dramatic and important event in American history.

Zenger had editorialized that the Governor had deeded to lands destroyed, judges arbitrarily displaced, new courts established without the consent of the Legislature and had denied the right to vote to certain landowners. All of these accusations were based on fact but truth was held to be no defense in a prosecution for seditious libel, which was defined as "a written censure upon public men for their conduct as such." Inconceivable as it is today, the English courts had taken the position that the greater the truth the more serious the nature of the libel.

Zenger was brought to trial for his published remarks and almost immediately his New York counsel were disbarred because of the resistance they offered in his defense. After disbarment they secured the services of Andrew Hamilton of the Philadelphia bar to continue the defense. Hamilton was the foremost lawyer in the American Colonies and the term "Philadelphia lawyer" was long used as a special compliment in his individual honor.

Hamilton offered his services to Zenger without fee. Displaying great moral courage he defied the judges who were controlled by the Governor and told the jury that it was not considering the cause of just a poor printer. Instead, it was considering the cause of "the liberty both of exposing and opposing arbitrary power by speaking and writing truth." At the conclusion of the trial the Chief Justice instructed the jury that the printed words of Zenger were libelous and that if the jury found he had published them, as he had, then Zenger should be found guilty. Under such circumstances it was obvious that Zenger would be convicted.

Fortunately, the jury, which was not controlled by the Governor, defied the court. Zenger was found not guilty. America had a free press and as Governor Morris, one of the members of the Constitutional Convention was later to remark, "The trial of Zenger in 1735 was the germ of American freedom, the morning star of that liberty which subsequently revolutionized America."

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

The Editor Letter To

Comanche Chief
Comanche, Texas

Dear Sir:

Please accept my subscription to The Chief for one year. Enclosed you will find a check drawn against the Gustine bank with the amount left blank; fill in the amount for the one year subscription.

I have been here in Europe for a year now as Senior Representative for North American Aviation. I cover the territory between Karachi, Pakistan and Riggie, Norway on a fairly regular basis. I see Texas people almost everywhere and an occasional Comanche. I met Colonel Morris, a native of Sipe Springs over in Bohnn, Germany the other day. He is an advisor to the German Air Force for our Government.

Between Pakistan and the Arctic Circle in Norway there is a lot of territory. There is not any however that takes the place of Comanche County with me.

Respectfully yours,
McGee Moore.

Van Dyke

By Jesse A. Tiner
(May 30, 1960)

Another day of sorrow visited Van Dyke last Wednesday when new came in announcing the passing of Mrs. Cora McDaniel at a rest home in Brownwood.

Funeral services for Mrs. McDaniel was held Thursday afternoon in the Comanche Funeral home. Rev. Plez Todd, Comanche Methodist pastor, conducted the service. She was laid to rest in the local Zion Hill Cemetery.

The deceased was the widow of the late G. S. (Sam) McDaniel, an erstwhile resident and substantial citizen of Van Dyke. The fine McDaniel homestead stands about an half mile west of the Community Center here.

The departed one was a true friend with a kind word for everyone, she loved life and she knew how to live it.

The home is lonely when mother goes away.
Across the river wide;

But we'll not find a lonely day
When we go to the other side.
Just a few short miles, a few brief tears.

While on earth we may still abide,
But we'll have only joyful years
With mother on the other side.

Now using our imagination

at the window?

Now I have tried to make you understand the changes that have come to West Texas in 100 years. But there is one thing that has never changed. Them oldtimers had to pay their taxes.

I have a copy of part of a Supplemental Assessment Tax Roll, for Erath County, made for the year 1856, by Thomas K. Carmack, Assessor and Collector for Erath County, Texas. These taxes are for State taxes only. Erath County was organized in 1856, but too late to collect County taxes.

My grandfather, Chesley Turn-bow, rendered 500 acres of land, valued at $500. Paid no poll tax.
His total taxes were 75c.

Henry Gilbreath's grandfather rendered 5 Negroes, valued at $1,500; 7 horses valued at $525; and other property valued at $100. Total valuations $2,125.
Total tax $3.69; a 50c poll tax included. Henry Gilbreath now lives in Stephenville.

My uncle, A. J. Gilbreath, who was also Henry Gilbreath's uncle, rendered 1 Negro valued at $800;
8 horses at $675; other property valued at $140. Total valuation $1,615. His total tax $2.93, including a 50c poll tax.

My uncle, R. E. Caudle, rendered 5 yoke of oxen, $375. His tax was $1.06, including a 50c
poll tax.

My uncle, C. B. Caudle, rendered miscellaneous property valued at $175. His taxes amounted to 69c, including a 50c poll tax.

My uncle, F. H. Turnbow, rendered 1 horse $20, other property valued at $50, making a total of $70. His tax was 60c including

South Leon Church News

Here are some of the happenings in South Leon (Newburg) Baptist Church the past several weeks:

Memorial Day was observed Sunday, May 29th, with the service at the church conducted by Rev. E. N. Strother.

A very successful Daily Vacation Bible School, with an enrollment of twelve, was held at the church last week under the leadership of Mrs. Houston Robertson. She was assisted by Mrs. Don Gray and Mrs. Burton Cunningham with Ruth Robertson and Suann Henson in charge of the beginners. A nice program was rendered by the young people Sunday evening.

Sunday, June 5th, our guest speaker for the TANE program was Rev. James S. Hamilton of Fort Worth.

The interior of the church was improved last week, with a new hardwood floor and new pews and pulpit furniture are to be installed this week.

Pastor Dan Oglesby will fill his regular appointment at the morning and evening services Sunday, June 12th. Every resident member is expected to be present.

HERE FROM ABILENE

Rusty Brightman, son of Captain and Mrs. Jack Brightman of Abilene, was here visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wwright Bringman and to attend the Junior Rodeo.

Newburg Club Holds Meeting

by Club Reporter

The Newburg Community Progress Club met June 2. Bill Lane, president, called the meeting to order. Minutes were read and approved.

Two committees made reports. It looks like we are going to have a busy year.

Refreshments were served to 22 members and the 4-H boys and girls. Didn't have very many present, due to so many helping with the Comanche Junior Rodeo.

Congratulations to Stag Creek on winning second place in the State Community Improvement Program. Twenty-five people from Newburg enjoyed the Stag Creek tour.

Newburg Progress Club met the first Thursday night in May, with Vice-President J. B. Maples presiding, due to illness of President Bill Lane.

New officers were elected and all committees were appointed.

It was voted by the Club, that we do everything we could to help Stag Creek to win first place in the State contest.

Cold drinks and cookies were served to about 30 members and the 4-H Club boys and girls.

It's pretty hard to convince the kids that the shortage of teachers is a calamity.

There are only two kinds of parking nowadays — illegal and no.

Paradise is not a locality—it's a state of mind.

POOR MORPHEUS

Insomnia sufferers of old ate raw white onions to woo the arms of Morpheus. Pity the poor husband or wife! Today we have more reliable methods of inducing sleep... sleeping pills and the tranquilizers for example. But, these medications are prescription items and should be taken only upon the advice of your physician. Check the obvious reasons for sleeplessness first—it may be caused by a lumpy mattress. Then, if the condition continues, see your doctor. If he recommends medication, we'll be glad to fill his prescription.
